

PRIVACY POLICY

The present privacy policy establishes the terms in which Foodies SAS uses and protects the information provided by the users at the time they use our website. When we ask you to fill the personal information fields with which you can be identified, we do so making sure they will only be used in accordance to the terms outlined in this document. However, this privacy policy can change in time or be updated so we recommend and emphasize to check this page periodically to make sure you agree to the changes.

Information we gather

Our website may collect personal information such as: Name/ contact information such as your email address, passport number or id number. Additional specific information may be required in order to process a service or issue your billing.

Use of the gathered data

Our website uses your information in order to provide the best possible service particularly in keeping our booking register, requests in case they apply, and improving our products and services. It is possible that periodical emails be sent through our site with special offers, new products and marketing information we consider relevant or may bring a benefit for you. This emails will be sent to the address you provide us and can be canceled by you at any moment.

Foodies SAS is highly committed in complying with the commitment of keeping your information safe. We use the most advanced systems and update constantly to make sure there is no unauthorized breach.

Cookies

A cookie refers to an automated file that is send with the purpose of asking for permission to be stored in your computer, by accepting the file the cookie is created and helps gather information about your web traffic and also facilitating future visits to a recurring website. Another function of cookies is that with them the web can individually recognize you and therefore provide you with the best personalized service.

Our web service employs cookies to id the pages that are visited and the frequency. This information is used only for statistical analysis and then the information is eliminated permanently. You can eliminate cookies at any time from your computer. However cookies help provide a better service in websites, they don't grant access to your information or the information located in your computer, unless you want to and provide it directly. You can accept or deny the use of cookies, however, most browsers accept cookies automatically because it helps to have a better website. You can also change the configuration of your computer to reject cookies. If you reject them it can be possible you cannot use some of our services.

Third-party links

This website could contain links to other sites that could be of interest to you. Once you click on the links and abandon our page, we no longer have control over the site you were redirected to and therefore we are not responsible for the terms or privacy or data protection of those other parties. Those sites are subject to their own privacy policies so we encourage you to consult them and confirm you agree with them.

Personal information control

At any time you can limit the gathering or use of personal information provided to our website. Foodies SAS will not sell, hand over or distribute the personal information without consent, unless required by a judge with a court order. Foodies reserves the right to change the terms of the present Privacy Policy at any time.

Foodies SAS makes available for everyone interested the email address hola@foodies.com.co to address any doubt or petition about what is described here.